Presentation Content

The quality and integrity of research in clinical pharmacology and translational medicine are essential to effective healthcare. ASCPT ensures balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all of its educational activities. PowerPoint slides cannot contain any advertising, trade names, or a product-group message. All content must be free from commercial bias and should reference the best available evidence where applicable.

All abstract presenters completed the required Conflict of Interest Statement and the Distribution, Duplication, and Recording Form during abstract submission. Please inform ASCPT at meetings@ascpt.org immediately of any updates to your Conflict of Interest Statement.

Photography or recording of abstracts or other scientific content being presented at the ASCPT conference by attendees is not permitted.

Presentation Time Limits

Each oral presenter will be limited to a maximum of 10 PowerPoint slides, including the title slide (i.e. 1 minute per slide). The oral session co-chairs will contact you in February about your presentation and offer to review your presentation slides. The co-chairs can provide you with feedback and guidance about your presentation. Please thoroughly practice your slides with your mentor to ensure the highest quality presentation is being given.

The Society's audio/visual (A/V) producer reviews all PowerPoint slides prior to your presentation in order to ensure text and graphics are compatible with our system. Please let ASCPT know immediately if your presentation includes videos or uses special software. Video source files must be provided.

ASCPT will provide an Annual Meeting Template Slide for your use. Oral abstract presenters who do not upload their presentations by the deadline of Thursday, March 5, 2020, MUST check in at the Speaker Ready Room onsite at least two hours prior to the start of their session.

Additional information on uploading your presentation will be provided in early February 2020.
